Cuban Cigars

Throughout the history of the cigar, the 'Habano' has been considered the pinnacle of smoking pleasure. The unparalleled quality of the Havana cigar has bound the idea of Cuba with its most coveted export, and has held the imagination of 'Aficionados' around the world for 500 years. We had the pleasure and privilege to walk through the tobacco fields of Vinales. Called a 'Vega' and still ploughed and cultivated by hand with oxen and a hoe. One night we sat at the kitchen table enjoying a Cuban rum with a local family. Then our host introduced a surprise for us... An 80 year old Cuban joined us at the table and rolled two cigars for my son and I. That was one of the many highlights on our journey. Today, we have a fine selection of Cuban cigars in our restaurant to be enjoyed by the discerning smoker.
